

China and Inner Asia

With more specialists than anywhere else, SOAS is the best place to gain a deeper understanding of this fascinating part of the world.

Our academic record is consistently ranked amongst the top global institutes and we're home to the world's largest concentration of specialist researchers outside Asia. Learning alongside and from a hugely diverse student community, there's nowhere better than SOAS to immerse yourself in the complexities and culture of China and Inner Asia.

Specialists who are fluent in the languages of China are highly sought after – and becoming ever more so. Offering a greater choice of languages than anywhere else in Europe, we have the opportunities, resources, and regional experts needed for you to increase your language proficiency, your knowledge of the region, and ultimately, your chances of academic and professional success.

Our research is also highly respected. It's interdisciplinary too, and extends to explore aspects of religion, philosophy, family life, and political and social history. More specifically, it gives you the opportunity to delve that much deeper into areas of interest such as literature, games, horticulture from the Ming and Qing periods, Chinese cinema and theatre, popular culture, media, and cultural governance.
